Handball Organizations Unite for the 2011 Collegiate Championships at ASU

TUCSON – It’s Official! The 59th Annual USHA Collegiate Handball Championships hosted by the WPH will be held at Arizona State University in Tempe, AZ., February 23-27, 2011.

The United States Handball Association (USHA) and the World Players of Handball (WPH) have agreed to showcase the best collegiate handball event to date.

"I'm delighted that we're going to have a single championship. We missed the competition last year," says Lake Forest Handball Coach Mike Dau.

Entry form, hotel and other arrangements are in the works and will be finalized in the upcoming weeks.

The USHA (the governing body of handball) will supply the official balls (Red and White ACE) and provide stipends to help teams and coaches attend the event; meanwhile, the WPH will host, run the tournament and manage administrative and facility costs. Co-Tournament Directors, Matthew Krueger and Steve Soto, are ready for the 2010 spectacle.

“What a great day,” proclaimed Missouri State Handball Coach Tommy Burnett. “I predict that the 2011 tournament will be one of the most exciting collegiate events ever.”

The handball facility, tournament banquet, host hotel, and hospitality will all be within walking distance on the ASU campus.

For other details, you can view the agreement signed by USHA President Mike Steele and WPH President Fred Lewis at www.ushandball.org and www.wphlive.tv.
